

Page Spread

On production of multi-sectioned stitched magazines an allowance should be made at the Design/repro stage for the bulking of the paper. The centre pages will trim smaller in width than the outer pages, for example on a 124pp saddle stitched product on 90gsm silk, the centre pages are approximately 5mm in width smaller than the outer pages.

Please note that Symbian do not adjust customers PDF files to allow for bulking and allowance must be made for this at the artwork and reproduction stage. Please contact your account executive for more information.
